

Global Perspectives Film Series

featuring

Pleasure Unwoven

Thursday, January 26 Noon, ACB 240

The important question about addiction is: "Is it really a "disease?" Pleasure Unwoven: An Explanation of the Brain Disease, recipient of NAATP's Michael Q. Ford Journalism Award 2010, presents the arguments for and against this question. This video essay reviews all the latest research about addiction. Using the spectacular landscape of Utah's State and National Parks to describe the brain areas involved in addiction, Pleasure Unwoven turns complex neuroscientific concepts into easy-to-understand visual images that will help people in recovery feel better understood and give their families and friends hope that recovery is possible.

This film is being screened in follow up to the January 25 (noon, ACB 110) panel presentation addressing substance abuse disorders.

Free pizza will be provided!

This event is free and open to the public. No RSVP is necessary.
For more information about our film series, please visit the Office of Global Health website at www.ttuhsc.edu/globalhealth/movieseries.aspx.