THE WIDOMAKER

The Widomaker uncovers a conspiracy of silence around that most vulnerable of human organs—the heart. Every minute of every year an American drops dead of a heart attack, a huge number without any warning or prior symptoms. For thirty years a hidden battle has been fought inside America's medical establishment that has condemned them to death—a battle that is as much about money, as it is about medicine—a battle that this film reveals for the first time.
